

Terrorism Thrillers

A spy has to hunt down a terrorist who has committed a horrific crime...if this is your idea of a good book, look for these authors:

Baldacci, David
Clancy, Tom
DeMille, Nelson
Koontz, Dean
Ludlum, Robert

Espionage Thrillers

Do you like spies? International intrigue? Here are several authors in the Adult Fiction area you can consider reading:

Ambler, Eric
Cussler, Clive
Follett, Ken
Higgins, Jack
LeCarre, John

Psychological Suspense Thrillers

Eerie page turners which play with your mind...Look for these authors in Adult Fiction:

Clark, Mary Higgins
Coulter, Catherine
Patterson, James
Rice, Christopher

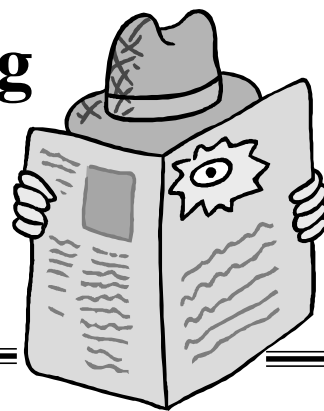

Sunnyvale Public Library
665 West Olive Avenue
Sunnyvale, CA 94086

Compiled by Susan Kaplan

L-293 (04/05)

★ LIBRARIANS' LIT LISTS ★

Thrilling Fiction Lit List

Legal Thrillers

In the past decade many lawyers have written suspense novels complete with courtroom drama, attorneys who must do their own detective work and clients who were smart enough to hire the right lawyer to prove their innocence. Some of the best known authors of this genre are John Grisham, Scott Turow, and Richard North Patterson. If you have read these and still hanker for more, here are some other authors you might want to try.

In the Adult Fiction section:

Brown, Sandra	Martini, Steve
Grippando, James	O'Shaughnessy, Perri
Klavan, Andrew	Parker, Barbara
Klempner, Joseph	Rosenberg, Nancy Taylor
Lescroart, John	Scottolline, Lisa
Margolin, Phillip	Siegel, Barry

In the Adult Mystery section:

Jacobs, Jonnie	McGuire, Christine
Kahn, Michael	Peak, John

Medical Thrillers

For those who like medicine with their crime novels, and you have read everything Robin Cook has written, here are some other authors you might want to check out in the Adult Fiction section:

Clement, Peter, M.D.	Mezrich, Ben
Cornwell, Patricia	Palmer, Michael
Crichton, Michael	Patterson, James
Darnton, John	Pottinger, Stanley
Gerritsen, Tess	Preston, Richard
Heron, Echo	Robinson, Leah Ruth
Lynch, Patrick	Saul, John
McMahon, Neil	Spruill, Steven
	Wilson, F. Paul